

Bright Star of Morning

Bright star that shines in the darkness
Yours is the first light of morning
You smile as the dawn kisses each new day
Beyond all longings—we are one heart
One heartbeat for humanity
Endures like the bright star of morning
Our love defies the darkness
Your sweetness and smile
Kisses each new day
With the hope of morning

Come lovers of the night
Forever the desires of our heart
Exploding its passion
Beyond all measure and understanding
Bright star of hope
Shine on to where
There are no unbroken secrets to conceal
Only the love that lights our life

Who among us can dare to divide this union?
Tempting time and human weakness
Our love endures forever

Diamond of love and dignity
Into your radiance I surrender
Even death cannot divide us
Nor time conquer love's eternal truth
Into your radiance
I surrender
To love's passion

Romance that carries us
Like the wind
Against the darkness of time and circumstance
Into the light of a new day
Love that endures
Like this diamond of truth and dignity
Endures
Forever
For you
For peace

Our love endures
Like the diamond of dignity
all radiance and splendor
As we are lifted into love's eternity
Forever united
As the brightest star of morning
A loves that last forever

Diamonds are forever
And endure
Like the love
That will never die

Against the darkness
One diamond illuminating
The light of two lovers
Is the brightest star
Of the morning,
And like a diamond that endures
We are radiance
